

Romanis Magicae (Title of the book)

Welcome to the Cambrian Comics submission demo page! If you see red text, it's there to explain the rules and give more details on why the page is supposed to look the way it is. Do not include this in your submission.

NOTE: First, we are REQUIRING that this front page be typed in 12pt Times New Roman, except for the title, which will be 24pt Times New Roman. Second, NO NAMES are to appear on the packet so we can judge each submission as fairly as we can. Finally, this front page is REQUIRED to be only one page long to avoid any confusion when viewed by the submissions editor. After this, you will attach a copy of your cover and the FIRST FIVE PAGES of artwork from your story.

Logline: A one sentence description of the book and what it's about. If you don't know how to write a logline, there are plenty of resources online, such as this one and this one.

In the slums and gutters of ancient Rome, a broken legionary must join forces with a ragtag group of petty criminals, ex slaves, and disgraced priests to combat an ancient evil that threatens to destroy the city.

Printing details: This is where you tell us the details of how you would like to present your book so we can take it to the printers. List the number of issues, total number of interior pages, what color scheme you would like (we take all kinds such as spot coloring or black and white books) and the page dimensions of the book.

4 issue mini series (96 interior pages), full color, standard western comic size (6.625x10.25)

Summary: We want a brief description of what happens in each issue if you choose to submit a book with multiple issues. We understand that this may be difficult for people who choose to submit a 4 issue series, but we ask that you make do. Place the names of the characters in ALL CAPS the first time they are introduced.

Issue 1: MARCUS is a disgraced ex legionary, and while stumbling through Rome in a drunken stupor, he comes across a girl named LYSIA being pursued by creatures that are slaves to a sorcerer named CRIXUS. Marcus tries to help, but fails. Lysia is rescued by her friends DENETRIX, CASTOR and POLLUX, NIKOS, and KHAMET who interrogate Marcus and decide to let him stay when Lysia prophesies that he will help stop Crixus from destroying the city.
